Global News

US stocks ended higher on Wednesday, and the S&P 500 and Dow registered their biggest daily %age gains since May 4, on signs of easing political turmoil in Italy and as a surge in oil prices boosted energy stocks. The S&P 500's gains erased the losses of Tuesday, when the index posted its first 1 % drop in May. Fears about instability in Italy and the possibility of the country's exit from the euro sent investors piling into safety assets on Tuesday. The Dow Jones Industrial Average rose 306.33 pts, or 1.26 %, to 24,667.78, the S&P 500 gained 34.15 pts, or 1.27 %, to 2,724.01, and the Nasdaq Composite added 65.86 pts, or 0.89 %, to 7,462.45. Asian stocks rebounded from a two-month trough on Thursday, while the euro enjoyed a respite after sinking to its lowest in 10 months as political turmoil in Italy that had roiled global financial markets showed signs of easing.
