Good Morning Early Readers!

The Fed left its benchmark policy rate unchanged at zero to 0.25% and said it would continue to buy $120 billion of bonds monthly until "substantial further progress" had been made on employment and inflation. The significant upgrade comes as the economy is healing, and as Fed officials penciled in stronger growth in 2021, faster inflation and slightly quicker labor market progress next year. The Fed in its statement has said "Progress on vaccinations has reduced the spread of Covid-19 in the United States."
